Confore

These lustrous flowers draw the hand to touch their silken surface and the eye to admire their form. Dark, burnished surfaces, the colour of berries or seeds or the leaves of alpine plants with a hint of blue in the wintry green. The flower is a strictly formal five-point star-blossom whose slim extended arms in matt aluminum both hold and separate its burnished aluminum petals. The flower is found on each member of this family, in copper or green and bare brushed aluminum. The luster of stream-tossed stones and the elegance of organic form.
